

DIGGS TRIAL BEGUN IN FRISCO TODAY

First of Famous White Slave Cases Goes Before Court on Coast

AFFAIR HAS EVENTFUL HISTORY

Involved Washington Administration and Cost District Attorney
His Job

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Climaxing an escapade which stirred the nation from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the trial of John L. Diggins, district attorney, which caused bitter diatribes in congress, and which cost John L. McNab of San Francisco his job as United States district attorney, Maury I. Diggins of Sacramento was placed on trial here today for violation of the Mann "white slave" act.

Deserted Wives
Diggins, who, with F. Drew Caminetti, deserted their wives in Sacramento and fled to Reno, Nevada, with two pretty high school girls, Martha Warrington and Lola Norris, went to trial before United States District Judge William C. Van Fleet, with Matt I. Sullivan and Theodore Roche, special assistants to Attorney General McReynolds, as his prosecutors.

Both the Warrington girl, with whom Diggins fled, and Miss Norris and her former friend Caminetti, were in court when the trial opened.
It was expected that because of the great publicity of the case, some difficulty would be encountered in getting an unbiased jury. When this is obtained, however, it is probable both girls will be put on the stand to tell their stories of the Reno adventure.

Caminetti Next
Immediately after the conclusion of the Diggins trial, which is expected to last about a week, Caminetti will be placed on trial on the same charge, with Miss Norris as the principal witness. At the conclusion of Caminetti's trial, Diggins and his Attorney Charles B. Harris of Sacramento, will face a jury charge of attempting to suborn perjury in connection with the case.

After listening to arguments by counsel for both sides, Judge Van Fleet at noon denied the defense's motion on behalf of both men for a change of venue to Sacramento. It granted, this would have meant delaying the hearings until next April.
The court then ordered the trial of Diggins to proceed.

WILL AID FIGHT AGAINST SLIT SKIRT

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Chicago clubwomen announced today that they were willing to join hands with St. Paul women, who are planning a nation-wide protest to manufacturers, designers and modistes responsible for the slit skirt and the diaphanous gown.

Mrs. John W. Robbins of the Chicago Woman's club, said she believed that organization would enlist in the movement.
"The way a great many women dress on the streets nowadays, you would think they are chorus girls or vaudeville artistes," said Mrs. Robbins. "It really is shocking. Their costumes present a study in anatomy instead of fashion."

Mrs. William W. Welch, a member of the same club, said she thought the movement very timely.
"I am especially opposed to the way high school girls attire themselves," said Mrs.
Welch. "Modesty seems to be absolutely lacking in their dress."

Chicago women would have the resolutions of protest broadened to include a condemnation of low-neck gowns, the dress with the clinging effect, and the startling bathing suit as well as the slit skirt.

STRUCK AT TWELFTH AND STATE Attempt to Pass Tracks Ahead of Street Car and Machine Is Wrecked

Three men barely escaped death last night at 10:45 when the automobile they were driving collided with a south-bound street car at West Avenue and State streets. The car was owned by Dan M. Skundberg of Westby. Skundberg was slightly injured but today could return to his home. Andrew Anderson of Cashton was badly bruised about the head. He was taken to the La Crosse hospital in an automobile, but was able to return to his home this morning. The third man in the machine walked down town and took a train out of the city.

According to an eye witness Skund-berg was driving the machine east on State street at a moderate rate. The street car started to make the street speed south on West Avenue. As the machine and street car neared each other, both slackened speed waiting for one another to pass. As the street car started to make the street crossing, Skundberg also started his machine.

In trying to cross the street in front of the car, his machine was struck on the left in the rear, turning it over and burying Skundberg under the wreck. The crew of the street car and a small crowd that congregated turned the machine over.

Skundberg was found to be unable to walk and was sent to the hospital.
The repairs to the machine will amount to over $500 according to the automobile company that hauled it down town.

THREATEN LEAD STRIKE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 5.—Miners of the Western Federation in St.
Francis county, Mo., the largest lead mining district in the world, today are taking a strike vote and a walkout is predicted. Several weeks ago they demanded an increase of fifty cents a day and a union shop, and gave the operators until August 1 to answer. The companies made no response. Operators say if the men strike they will make no attempt to break it, but let the mines fill with water.

MANY ISSUES UP TO THE COUNTY BOARD

Adoption of City Streets as County Highways Under New Law to Be Grounds for Debate

NEW BLACK RIVER BRIDGE

Supervisors Claim Present Structure Is Menace to Life and Insist City Should Pay Half

Many big questions will confront the La Crosse county board when it convenes at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.
Perhaps the biggest is that involving the taking over, by the county board, of several highways in various towns and cities, as county roads. A proposition is up to have the causeway between the north and south sides of the city of La Crosse adopted as a county road. This is pursuant to a new law passed at this session of the legislature which gives the county the right to do so if it sees fit.

City members will put up a warm fight for the adoption of the causeway by the county while, it is understood, country members will vigorously oppose the plan.

There is also a proposition to have that portion of the Mormon Coulee road inside the city limits adopted by the county as well as streets in Onalaska, West Salem and Bangor.

Black River Bridge
The Black River bridge from the foot of Clinton street on the north side to French Island will be torn apart—verbally—in an effort to secure a new structure. The town of Westby admits ownership of one-half the structure and insists that the city of La Crosse built the eastern half.

The present bridge is a menace to life, assert those who are backing the proposition for a new structure and is in daily peril of toppling into the river. The uprights or piers are badly rotted while the flooring is in a deplorable condition.

The proposition for dormitories at the county agricultural school will also be discussed and action may be taken on the matter.

A request that the county drain certain lands within the town of Onalaska will be presented to the board by residents and owners of land there. Recently a dam was constructed at a point in Black River to keep the water from flooding certain lands. The dam accomplished its purpose but the headwater above has flooded other lands.

LOCKJAW VICTIM BURIED TOMORROW

Wendell Phillips Debaters Adopt Resolutions on His Death

The funeral of Kemp Engleman, 15 year old son of Professor and Mrs. James O. Engleman, 1339 Vine street, who died at 4 o'clock yesterday morning of lockjaw, following a hard fight for life against great odds, will be held from his home tomorrow morning at 10:30. Rev.
D. C. Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which young Engleman was an active member, will officiate.

The following resolutions have been tendered by members of the Wendell Phillips Debating society of the high school, of which Engleman was a member:

"Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father in his omniscience to take from our midst an excellent student and comrade.

"Whereas, Kemp Engleman was a member in good standing, faithful and loyal to his friends.

"Whereas, the parents have lost a devout and loving son, the community a promising citizen, and the high school a prominent scholar, and cheerful student, the Wendell Phillips Debating society an active member, striving at all times to promote the interests of the society;

"We do hereby resolve that copies of these resolutions be sent the bereaved family, to the press of the city, and a copy be entered on the books of this society.

(Signed)
"Members of the Wendell Phillips Debating Society."

The pallbearers have been chosen from the high school, of which En-gleman was a student in his junior year, and three from the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church, of which Engleman was a member. Theodore Johnson, Ted Cronon and Harry Lethold will act as members of the church society, and Roger Lueck, John Dickens and Wallace Schall will represent the high school. Burial will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

SWAB TONGUE TO END "PILL" HABIT

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—A drummer, two college students, a bartender, six baseball players and the proprietor of a poolroom were sitting on the steps outside the headquarters of the Anti-Cigarette league today when Miss Lucy Page Gaston arrived to open the second day of the league's free clinic.
They all wanted a sample of the league's treatment for getting a toe-hold on Lady Nicotine.

The drummer displayed a fuzzy tongue. Dr. D. H. Kress, general secretary of the league, drew a tiny brush from a glass case, swabbed the tongue with a solution of nitrate of silver, and passed on to the next victim while the drummer hurried out in the hall to light a cigarette and test the remedy. He took two puffs and sent the snipe out the window. "Good night," he said with a wry expression and much emphasis.

Miss Gaston today pronounced the new treatment a success. She said that after three mouth washes with the nitrate of silver solution, the most hardened smoker was ready to quit.

NAME JOHN LIND AGENT TO MEXICO

Former Minnesota Governor to Represent Wilson as United States Mediator

INVESTIGATES FOR PRESIDENT

Will Probe Results of Prohibition of Sending Arms Across the Border

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN Staff Correspondent of the United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—John Lind, personal representative of the President of the United States, speeding toward Mexico City today to aid in bringing about a peaceful settlement internal affairs of that republic, carries elastic instructions. He had no hard and fast rules laid down for his guidance by either the president or Secretary of State Bryan, and because of that fact the president today hopes that he will be successful in his mission. Before he started southward, Lind conferred at length with the president and the secretary of state. Every possible contingency that might arise was considered.

Broke Precedent
When the suggestion was made that sending him as an advisory to the embassy was unprecedented, the president decided that there has been too much sticking to routine precedent already.

And Lind, while not accredited to the existing Mexican government carried with him almost plenary powers through the wording of the order starting him on his mission, which makes him in fact the personal representative of the president of the United States.

Lind's first task, of course, will be to get into touch with the influential Mexicans who have sent word through third parties to President Wilson that they are trying to reconcile all of the Mexican factions.
They will tell him what they have been able to accomplish. Lind will also be able to make it clear beyond the possibility of doubt that under no circumstances can Huerta's recognition be considered.

This is the first step in the administration's Mexican policy. Others are planned but will not be made public nor action taken toward settling them into action until after Lind's first hand investigation of existing conditions.

Hopes Quick Results
It was made very plain today that President Wilson is very hopeful of quick results after his representative reaches the Mexican capital.
Having entire confidence in Lind's judgment and ability, the president believes he will show the Mexicans the disinterestedness of this country's position.

One thing that will be insisted on by Lind will be that no matter what plan may be adopted for restoring order in Mexico it must be accomplished by a plan which will ensure the election of a bona fide president of the republic.

BRITAIN DENIES RUMOR

LONDON, Aug. 5.—It was authoritatively stated here today that in the matter of Bermuda naval base, Great Britain's intentions have been exaggerated and misconstrued. It was declared England has in mind nothing that can be the slightest menace to the Monroe doctrine. The admiralty does not contemplate the building up of a great naval base in Bermuda, but intends simply to repair and modernize the present defenses there.

GOTHAM GANGSTERS SHOOT "SQUEALER"

William Lustig Is Suspected of Giving Information and Shot Down

LURED TO RESTAURANT BY WOMAN

Four Men in Automobile Shoot Him While His Back Is Turned

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—"If I get out of this I can count a lot of new graves in the cemetery," was the comment of William Lustig, early today as he lay seriously wounded in "Humpty" Jackson's restaurant, following a gang shooting the details of which closely resembled those marking the murder of Herman Rosenthal. At the Bellevue hospital it was stated that although Lustig's wounds were serious he would probably recover.

Brother of Detective Lustig is a brother of one of the detectives attached to the office of District Attorney Whitman. He is said to have given the emnity of Jackson and "gangsters" because of being suspected of giving information to the authorities. It was after midnight when Lustig was seen on Third avenue with a young woman, headed toward Jackson's place. Arriving there Lustig hesitated before entering, but the young woman took him by the arm and they took a table near the door. Against his protest the young woman sat facing the door, according to the story learned by the police. Then she excused herself.

Shot in Back
A big black touring car rolled up in front of the restaurant, four men jumped out and while Lustig sat with his back to the door the men directed the fire from their revolvers upon him. Lustig fell with three bullet wounds in his body. The four men dropped their weapons on the sidewalk, jumped into the automobile and as the motor had been kept running dashed off before a policeman a half block away could make a move. The woman had disappeared from the restaurant in the meantime.
The police believe that members of the "Dokey Benny" gang are responsible.

TO FIGHT SUFFRAGE

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 5.—A national organization of Catholic women to oppose the suffrage movement has been launched by leaders in the German Catholic Central Verein, now convening in this city. The launching of the women's section came as a result of the report of President Frey in which he attacked woman suffrage and the theory of Eugenics as being opposed to the sacredness of home, the well being of society and the welfare of the human race.

Seven Cases Among Customers of Schmidt Dairy; Health Board Takes Action Today

Eight cases of diphtheria have developed in La Crosse since Saturday. Of these the health department alleges seven are among the patrons of the dairy of Ferdinand Schmidt on the Mormon Coulee road.

As a result of this discovery Schmidt was called before a meeting of the board of health this morning and ordered to thoroughly sterilize his equipment and to stay away from his home until the health department authorizes his return.

In the event another case develops that can be traced to the Schmidt dairy he will be ordered to suspend the sale of milk in the city until the disease has been absolutely eradicated.

The seven cases are all south of Winnebago street on the Schmidt route. The eighth case is in the family of a customer's neighbor.

Dr. J. M. Furstman said:
"We went direct to the Schmidt home and discovered that a week ago one of the children had a sore throat. Later, Mrs. Schmidt informed us, the other six children were ill with the same complaint which a physician diagnosed as tonsillitis.
From what the mother said there is no doubt in my mind but that the cases were diphtheria."

"The mother and older children assisted in the milking and caring for the product."

RELIEF FUND FOR BRYAN

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 5.—Texas wants Secretary Bryan to devote all his time to matters of state. To that end a relief fund is being raised by popular subscription and already contributions totalling more than $4,000 have been received. Leading democrats who are pushing the movement say the fund will be turned over to the commoner if he will agree to abandon the lecture platform.

BANISH NEAR BRIDE AFTER GROOM FAILS TO ATTEND WEDDING

2,000 REBELS ARE KILLED IN BATTLE

Carranza's Force Said to Have Been Surrounded and Annihilated at Torreon

HEAD OF THE REVOLUTION DEAD?

Reported that Carranza Either Was Slain or Captured by Victorious Federals

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Aug. 5.—Unconfirmed reports reached here today that a force of constitutionalists commanded by Gov. Venustiano Carranza was overwhelmingly defeated in an all-day battle at Torreon last Sunday. More than two thousand rebels are said to have been killed.
It was one of the worst slaughters in Mexican history, according to stories of federals. The report further says that Carranza was either killed in battle or captured by the federals as he is not with the scattered bands of rebels which escaped from the city.

Constitutionalist leaders here and at Piedras Negras discredit the wild reports. They declare Torreon is in possession of the rebels and that Carranza was not in that city but in the vicinity of Monclova. The source of the reports of the battle, however, indicate they are authentic.

Mail advices today from Puerto Cortez tell of the killing near there about July 23 of Captain J. C.
Graves, for some time employed by the Mengel Lumber Company of Louisville, Ky. Graves had trouble with a native. Both shot practically at the same time and both fell dead.

LOST GIRL LOCKED IN HOUSE

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Weak and half-starved, five year old Annie Nawalana, a little East Chicago, Ind., girl who had been missing from her home since last Saturday, was found at noon today locked in the closet of a vacant house four doors from her home. C. T. Smith, a real estate agent, found her while showing a prospective buyer through the vacant house. When he opened the door he found the little girl unconscious.
She was revived this afternoon and told her parents that a boy playmate whose name she did not know, locked her in the closet and then ran away.

TANGO UNFORGIVABLE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 5.—
"Should any priest attempt to solve such a penitent, the absolution would be worthless and the confession would be a curse rather than a blessing," said Right Rev. Thomas B.
Byrne, bishop of the diocese of Nashville, in issuing an order forbidding members of the Catholic church in Tennessee to attend the Tango, Turkey Trot or dances of similar character.

HAS SUITOR ARRESTED

Because Tony Braco of Kansas City followed her to New Orleans to insist that she marry him, Miss Lena Loyole, formerly of Kansas City complained to the police here and Braco was ordered to leave New Orleans.
Braco was an unwelcome suitor in Kansas City and when the girl's family moved here, he soon followed.
She fears harm at his hands.

MOTHER SAVES FAMILY

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 5.— Seizing two little children in her arms and calling three others to follow her, Mrs. James Hillson, early today led her family to safety when fire broke out in the kitchen and shot through the lower rooms of the home. The father and husband, who is a travelingman, was away from home.

GRACE IS WISER NOW

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5.—Grace St.
Clair, 23, of Appleton, Wis., started for home today. Grace had seen enough of the bright lights and the night life of the Wisconsin metropolis. She reached Milwaukee early Monday and before midnight last night had been robbed of $15 and arrested.

KILLS HIS LANDLORD

noon today authorities had found no trace of the assailant of Anton Hojek, who died early today at a hospital here. Hojek was attacked by a boarder at his home, it is charged,

GIRL IS ESCORTED ACROSS BRIDGE IN EARLY MORN

Event Arranged by "Cupids" Dewey and Chief Webber Fails to Materialize Last Night

COUPLE FOUND IN BOX CAR

Claimed They Were "Hoboing" and Police "Suggested" They Travel Path of Life Double

MATCH NOT "MADE IN HEAVEN"

So Frank Hanman, Detroit, Leaves Town on Day
He Is to Join Pretty Blanche Williams

Following the failure of Frank Hanman, the groom, to appear last night to wed Blanche Dorothy Williams—in conformity to the plans of "Cupids" John Webber, chief of the La Crosse police and D. C. Dewey, superintendent of the City Mission—the bride, sad and tearful, was escorted across the wagon bridge and out of the city today by stalwart members of the La Crosse police department.

"Skiddoo!" With guests assembled, the minister clasping his prayer book and the bride blushing becomingly—aye, even anxiously—the unique wedding failed to materialize when the groom, a rather erratic gentleman, failed to appear.

The man was Frank H. Hanman, aged 33, Detroit, Mich., while the bride-to-be was Miss Blanche Williams, aged 20, who claims her home also as Detroit. They are the couple found in a box car on the north side several days ago, who told the police they were "hoboing" about the country for "excitement."

The wedding, which was scheduled to have been celebrated last night, was not exactly the "made in Heaven" type described by Tenny-son, for the wooing was done and the arrangements were made by D.
C. Dewey, superintendent of the City Mission and John Webber, chief of police.

When the couple were arrested the police department was at a loss for proper disposition of the pair and it was finally agreed to turn them over to Mr. Dewey. He succeeded in convincing them that the only way out of their police difficulties was the marriage route. They both agreed after much debate.

Joyously, "Cupid" Dewey went to the county clerk's office for the necessary license. Under a new state law the couple had to wait five days before the wedding could be solemn-

MUZZLE THE DOGS
THEY MAY BE MAD

Four dogs have been shot by the police.

One was declared by the Pasteur institute to be mad, and a victim of this dog's bite has been sent to the institute for treatment.

Another, owned by Peter Valier, Chief Webber believes was ill with rabies.

The remaining two dogs the chief believes were poisoned, and had not the rabies.

Casting over this situation, Chief Webber declares it his conviction that there is "no occasion for muzzling dogs."

We do not agree with this conclusion. A single identified case of rabies should, in our opinion, be followed automatically by a muzzling order. Why take the chance that a single citizen may be bitten and encounter the expense of a trip to the institute, if indeed his life be saved?

Dogs are held by license. The right of the dog owner is subject to the condition that his ownership shall not imperil others. Yet, with this dog scare on, every parent in the city is worried, every pedestrian has the corner of his eye on each passing dog. And better than that one of these be bitten by a rabid dog, every dog in the city should be sacrificed.

If another shall be bitten by a mad dog the victim should have recourse against the city. Only specialists are qualified to say that dogs shot for strange behavior are, or are not mad. We are taking too long a chance. We sympathize with Chief Webber's feeling that to muzzle dogs in the heated season is cruel, and that the expense entailed is a hardship on the hundreds of dog owners, but we believe it is better to do so than to subject to the remotest danger the life of a single citizen.

THE BILLBOARDS

Over in France an effective way has been found to get rid of offensive billboards along the railways.
They have been taxed out of existence.

If that method can be employed in France, why can't it be applied in this country? Taxes based upon the damage that billboards do to communities and to the general public would quickly put them out of business. Many a city has suffered more actual harm in a bad advertising way through disfiguring billboards than it could be compensated for if it received twice the amount demanded by the sign owners for their space.

On top of this bad advertising effect upon communities should be added the injury suffered by persons who go out to enjoy pleasing sights, but who instead find their views ruthlessly shut off by lurid barriers seeking to impress upon them the merits of some special article or concern.

Chicago is now getting after the billboard evil. The big city so long tolerated the advance of the disfig-urements that now it finds itself in a decidedly bad way. The millions it has spent in improvements to create a happy impression upon residents and visitors have been nullified in many ways by the view hiding fences. Chicago might be a splendid advertisement for itself if people could see the real city. As it is the city is a decidedly bad advertisement for itself, however valuable its billboards may be as advertising mediums for certain individuals.

A tax on billboards seems logical.
It also seems just—simply as a fair compensation to an injured community.

A Pittsburg official refuses to interfere in the matter of woman's dress, saying "women know what they want to wear," which is generally something different from what the other one has on.

English polo players are using tea instead of American highballs this season. Therefore the game loses about 50 per cent of its excitement.

It is suggested by his numerous trips from Washington that Mr.
Bryan is the man who put the depart in state department.

Princess Maud of England cannot marry the man she loves. Well, then nothing can ever make her think less of him.

Nowadays if a man lives five years in the same house he's a pioneer to the newspapers when he dies.

England's new poet laureate is a doctor. To know all about poet feet he should be a chiropodist.

Greece will find room for a lot of shoe shining stands in that newly acquired territory.

It might be well to have two congresses—one for investigation and one for legislation.

London women are taking to the cigar habit. It is more manly than cigaretts at that.

Isn't it about time that somebody started an agitation for a safe and sane Sunday?

Her Only Trouble

Harry Lauder told an amusing story the other day of two Glasgow women who met in the street and began to discuss the domestic affairs of a newly married couple.

"Aye, Mrs. McTavish," said one,
"so Jeannie's got married!"

"She has that, Mrs. McAlpine," replied the other.

"An' how's she gettin' on?" the first woman wanted to know.

"Oh, no sad bad at a," was the reply. "There's only one thing the matter. She thinks she could hae got a better man! But then, there's aye something!"

In Virtues There is Strength

One day a pastor was calling upon a dear old lady, one of the "pillars" of the church to which they both belonged. As he thought of her long and useful life, and looked upon her sweet, placid countenance bearing but few tokens of her ninety-two years of earthly pilgrimage, he was moved to ask her: "My dear Mrs.
S., what has been the chief source of your strength and sustenance during all these years? What has appeared to you as the real basis of your unusual vigor of mind and body, and has been to you an unflinching comfort through joy and sorrow?
Tell me, that I may pass the secret on to others, and, if possible, profit by it myself."

The old lady thought a moment, then, lifting her eyes, dim with age, yet kindling with sweet memories of the past, answered briefly: "Virtu-als."

His Farewell Speech

James H. Wallis, "the fly man of Boise," has made Idaho the most sanitary and most flyproof state in the Union.

Mr. Wallis, discussing his success with a New York reporter, laughed and said:

"I have succeeded in eradicating the fly by making all Idaho hate the fly, even as poor old Dan Carson hated his wife."

"Poor old Dan lay dying. His wife, melted a little from age, said to him:
"You're going, Dan."

"Dan, his eyes closed, made no answer. His wife then repeated, with a sigh:
"Dan, you're going, but I'll soon follow you."

"Upon this Dan's glassy orbs opened, and he said in a hollow voice:
"You stay here as long as you can."

The Statesmen

I'm glad I'm not a statesman,
For I can talk all day,
And no one criticises A single word I say.
I go and tour the country,
I ramble and I roam,
And no newspapers tell me I'm paid to stay at home.
Nobody gets excited
When I shoot off my mouth, And thinkers don't harpoon me, East, west, north and south.
They do not buzz around me And add unto my cares
By openly discussing
My personal affairs.
I do not have to squander Five times what I am paid To entertain the diplomats Of every name and grade.
They don't present my features In cartoons that are pert.
Opponents do not slam me And harp on truths that hurt.
I'm glad I'm not a statesman,
He's welcome to his job, Unknown to fame, I like my game, I'd rather be a job.

A Case of Getting Even

A dispute once arose between a landlord and his tenant. The latter had given notice to quit, but would not put a bill in his window to say this house was "To Be Let."

To make matters worse, they went to law about it. The judge, having heard the case, made an order for the defendant to put a bill up within fourteen days.

The landlord was so overjoyed at his victory that on the fourteenth day he took a friend with him round to the house to chaff his tenant. The bill was up in the window plain enough, but under it was another bill, which ran as follows:
"Cause of leaving—bad drains."

A Musical Plagiarist

Victor Herbert, the composer, said of a musician whose work he disliked:

"The prophecy that was made about this chap in his boyhood has come true.

"In his boyhood, you know, his mother said to him:

"Oh, he's such a remarkable child. A perfect prodigy, in fact.
He remembers every tune he hears."

"Well, well," said a pianist, who was present.

"Isn't that a very rare and valuable faculty?" his mother asked.

"It isn't rare," said the pianist.
"It's certainly valuable. It will probably enable him to become in after years a successful composer."

The Worst of It

Judge Gary, apropos of the never ending trust investigations, said the other day in New York:

"No big, successful business can feel safe. The heads of every such business are on pins and needles all the time. They are like the old shellback.

"An old shellback sat on a wine sweet ocean pier carving toy ships with a jackknife, and about the edge of the pier played half a dozen urchins. The water was deep and turbulent, but the urchins took all sorts of risks, and finally the old shell-back, dropping his work, grabbed up a couple of them and spanked them soundly.

"What did you do that for?" a bystander asked of the old shell-back.

"Well, cap'n," he replied, "it ain't that I care a tinker's darn whether they fall in or whether they don't.
What I can't stand is the gosh-hanged uncertainty."

THE "BLUES"

A Lady Finds Help from Simple Food

Civilization brings blessings and also responsibilities.

The more highly organized we become the more need there is for regularity and natural simplicity in the food we eat.

The laws of body nutrition should be carefully obeyed, and the finer more highly developed brain and nervous system not hampered by a complicated unwholesome dietary.

A lady of high nervous tension says:

"For fifteen years I was a sufferer from dyspepsia. I confess that an improperly regulated diet was the chief cause of my suffering. Finally, nothing that I ate seemed to agree with my stomach, and life, at times, did not seem worth living.

"I began to take a pessimistic view of everything and so to speak through dark blue glass, and see life through my head became affected with a heavy creeping sensation and I feared paralysis.

"Palpitation of the heart caused me to fear that I might die suddenly.
Two years ago, hearing Grape-Nuts so highly spoken of by some estimable friends of mine, I determined to try it.

"The change in my condition was little less than miraculous. In a short time the palpitation, bad feeling in head and body began to disappear and the improvement has
I find myself in better health than I have ever enjoyed.

"My weight increased 20 lbs. in the last year and life looks bright and sunny to me as it did when I was a child."

There Was Money in It able citizen of Senegambian descent, in his henhouse, proceeded to up-

Lucky Papa

year old girl as she entered a store near her home.

"How much is it?" she asked hind the counter handed her the cloth.

"Just one kiss," was the reply.

"All right, Papa said he would pay you when he came tomorrow."

Origin of Irish Lace

Irish lace originated from the failure of the potato crop that caused the famine of 1846. The abbeys of a convent in County Cork, looking about for some lucrative employment to help the half starved children who attended her schools, unraveled thread by thread a scrap of point de milan and finally mastered the complicated details. She then selected the girls who were quickest of needlework and taught them what she had painfully learned. The new industry prospered, and one of the pupils in a pardonable "bull" declared that "if it had not been for the famine we would all have been starved."—Westminster Gazette.

THE RED BUTTON

Copyright, The Dobbins-Merrill Company

Miss Estrilla, her face and her emotions hidden from view by the eye-shade, answered in a voice which began calmly, evenly:

"I should be very glad—whenever you wish!" There was a little break on the last word. Rosalie noted this. Something was evidently at work under the calm surface. Could it be eagerness?

Rosalie did not return at once to the dining-room, although the rattle of dishes and of voices invited.
She sought her own apartment, sat down on the bed, her chin in her hand—and began talking faintly to herself.

"Identification was straight, all right. It's them." A pause. "Think of draggin' mother-love into such a thing!" A pause. "Well, ain't you faked with this mother stuff all your life? Looks to me like some of that lady business had sunk in." Another pause. "But I never did it before to turn a trick like this."
And she shuddered. "I'm a softy—what will I ever say to Martin—I can't."

Twin steps sounded on the stairs; through the half-open door came two voices—those of Betsy-Barbara and Constance. Evidently, they had paused at the landing on their way down to dinner.

"You mustn't go to pieces now, dear. You mustn't. You need to keep every ounce of your strength for the trial!"

"But it's the suspense!" And Constance's voice, usually so soft and low, was shrill with tension.
"Oh, I can't go down and face people. I have to hold myself in all the time to keep from screaming! It's killing me!"

"It'll all go the moment you get into the dining-room," Betsy-Barbara promised. "Come, dear. You must eat!"

The voices drifted on. Rosalie raised her face from her hands.

"Well, it's one or the other, ain't it?" she said to herself. "But my God, life's awful—awful!"

She never faltered again. She forgot that little crisis, as we all forget so many of those momentary crises of the will upon which hang great ultimate decisions. Neither she nor Constance realized, when all was over, how much depended upon those few words, caught by accident through a half-open door.
Constance, indeed, never knew; and Rosalie forgot.

CHAPTER XIII.

A Critical Moment.

Two days later, and in the middle of the afternoon, Rosalie was again in Miss Estrilla's room suffering from incipient "control." Her eyes stared, her limbs twitched.

"Sorry," said Rosalie, on her entrance, "but I've got it again—an I can't beat it. Do you mind if I lock the door? I wouldn't be disturbed for a farm—don't know what it would do to me!" She plunged down into a chair, giving a yawn which shook her whole body.
Gradually she relaxed. With one heaving sigh she settled back. Her eyes closed; she fell as into sleep.
And presently she was babbling first in the baritone of Doctor Carver and then in the liquid accents of Laughing-Eyes.

Let me omit the preliminaries.
They dealt only with trivial things —such little affairs of the house as occurred to the mind of Rosalie Le Grange, working in flashes under her sleeping exterior. She had groggled and babbled for five minutes before Laughing-Eyes announced suddenly:

"The lady is sick—the pretty lady. Pretty spirit. I feel like a great big queen was here—Vic—Vic—Victoria!" The voice of Laughing-Eyes stopped. This was a device of Rosalie's. She wanted to listen. And the microscopically minute things which she heard satisfied her. Miss Estrilla had been breathing regularly. Now, on the mention of that name, her breath caught. The voice of Rosalie, her whole facial expression, her manner—if one can attribute manner to a woman who appears to sleep—underwent an absolute change. The voice deepened; the lines of the face fell; it was Doctor Carver who spoke.

"Victoria is not strong," said the voice. "I sense that she brings consolation. She says that things are bad; but they will be better by and by. It is a mother's influence. Miguel—here Rosalie stopped; and again she noted the irregular breathing from the couch. It was an eternal quarter-minute before she spoke again; this time the voice was a man's, but lighter and higher than that of Doctor Carver; and it spoke Spanish.

"I am mate, hijita mia!" it said, and died away. A silence again. "He is gone," said the voice of Doctor Carver. "A spirit wants the young woman who lives below this room." The seance drifted away into a series of imaginary messages for Miss Harding. But once again Miguel floated into the talk, dropped a word or two of easily-pronounced Spanish and floated out again. Presently, Doctor Carver came no more; the babblings of Laughing-Eyes became disconnected monosyllables, and died out altogether. Rosalie lay as though asleep.

She lay for five minutes; she lay ten minutes. "Won't she ever wake me up?" thought Rosalie.

Miss Estrilla moved now and then; now and then her breathing caught. And suddenly—she was not breathing at all. Rosalie, startled herself for the shock of cold water, if that were to be the awakening.

MAUD ADAMS

A good deal of the charm of "Peter Pan," in which Miss Adams is to be seen at the La Crosse Theatre Monday, Aug. 11, assuredly lies in the manner in which the work is acted and stage managed. Barrie, himself, must have felt in writing his whimsical and fantastical creation that its success would be due in no small measure to how it was done; over done it might lose its effect entirely. With a Scotchman's cannyness he therefore left his actors little excuse for going wrong. Through his manuscript run long explanations to the players describing just how he wants his characters portrayed. Explicit and minute are all these explanations and descriptions and the keynote of them all is naturalness. He devotes one entire closely written page to the actor charged with the impersonation of the dog, Nana, that is nurse to the Darling children. Miss Adams has always seen to it that the author's instructions were carried out to the letter. The present production of the play is a new one and the actress

It was only after a great deal of time and effort had been spent that she had gathered together a cast that she felt sure would do justice to the work. One of the noticeable things about the presentation of "Peter Pan" is that all of the people taking part in it enact their roles as if it were all absolutely real and not make-believe. Among the players in Miss Adams support are Robert Peyton Carter, Byron Silvers, Allen Fawcett, Ann Pittwood, Margaret Gordon, Dorothy Tureak, Marion Abbott, Anna Reader and Dorothy Chesmond. The production is an elaborate one and its unfolding here is awaited with interest.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness, sleeplessness and general ill health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be assimilated and carried to the blood. On the other hand, the blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion. In turn, the nerves are not fed on good, red blood and we see those symptoms of nervous breakdown. It is not head work that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip—bronchitis—consumption. Fortify the body now with

They defeated the best tennis players of England, France, Germany, Belgium, South Africa, Canada and Australia.

PLAN BIG BOAT PICNIC

COPELAND PARK MOTOR BOAT CLUB TO HOLD ANNUAL OUTING AT BRIDGE SWITCH SUNDAY

The Copeland Park Motor Boat club will hold its annual picnic next Sunday at its grounds near Bridge Switch on the Mississippi. Fully fifty motor boats are expected to participate in the parade which will form at the foot of the park at eight o'clock in the morning. The boats will be specially decorated to suit the occasion.

The former picnics have made themselves famous by the peculiar sort of refreshments served. It has been the custom in the past as soon as the flotilla was moored to the bank of the river for several members, headed by Joseph Dubraks and Art Mosher, to prepare a special brand of combination bouillon. Dubraks and Mosher insist that it is not bouillon that they make but "booya." This and a ball game are to be the chief attractions of the day.

During the past boating season the club has gained in numbers and a much larger turn out is expected next Sunday than ever before.

CHIVINGTON SAYS REPORTS OF TROUBLE BETWEEN CANTILLON AND CLARK ARE EXAGGERATED

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 5.—President Chivington of the American Association, in St. Paul this morning, stated that the trouble between Cantillon and Clark of Milwaukee, was greatly exaggerated. President Chivington arrived in Minneapolis Sunday to investigate the charges. He lifted the suspension on Clark, but will undoubtedly fine the player.

In regard to the report that Mike Cantillon attempted to draw a gun on Clark, the league head declared that both Mike and Joe Cantillon declared that Mike did not and never has at any time carried a revolver. Also that neither Harry Clark nor any other Milwaukee players saw a weapon.

"I investigated the affair thoroughly," said Chivington. "and found that Manager Harry Clark was guilty of using strong language to President Cantillon in arguing over the play of Friday on Killifer. I thought that a fine would be the proper way to meet the circumstance."

To Keep Skin in Fine Condition in Summer

(From the Family Physician)

It would be much better for the skin if little cream, powder or rouge were used during the heated term. Mixed with perspiration, dust and grime, these things are anything but beautifying. Ordinary mercurized wax will do more for the complexion, and without giving an oily, shiny, streaked, spotted or pasty appearance. It is the ideal application for the season, as it not only keeps the pores clean, but daily removes particles of scarf skin which have been soiled by dirt or weather. By constantly keeping the complexion clear, white and satiny, it does more toward perpetuating a youthful countenance than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. One ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, will completely renovate the worst complexion. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

To keep the skin from sagging or wrinkling, or to overcome such condition, there's nothing better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 ounce powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel.—Advertisement.

MAKES RECORD IN ROUNDING WORLD

John Henry Mears Passes La Crosse in Thirty-five Day Globe Trot from New York

Around the world in thirty-five days. That is the record that will be established tomorrow, barring an eleventh hour mishap, by John Henry Mears, who passed through the city this afternoon at 2:45 on the Olympian, fast passenger train of the Milwaukee road, from Seattle, Wash., on the fastest trip ever made around the globe. Mears started from New York July 2.

Leaving New York, Mears made his trip via London, Paris, Berlin, through Russia and across Siberia into China and Japan, then across the Pacific to Vancouver, finishing with a dash across the country by rail. He was aided by boats and trains being held for him when connections were close and only once, in Siberia, was he behind the schedule he had planned.

Employees of the Milwaukee railroad here were disappointed this morning when they found that Mears would not appear. Instructions to local officials here were to the effect that the best crews and engine should be used, to aid the traveler in every way possible.

Mears is traveling true to a schedule he mapped out before starting his dash. He left St. Paul today at 8:30 a. m.; will reach Chicago at 9 p. m. and leave at 11:30. At 7:15 a. m. Wednesday he will reach Cleveland, Ohio, change trains and proceed immediately toward Buffalo, arriving there at 11:45.

At 1 p. m. Mears will start on the final leg of his journey, arriving in New York at 10:10 a. m. He has allowed himself ten minutes to reach the office of the Sun from the Grand Central station. That will put him at the point from which he started at 10:20. If he makes all of his final connections successfully his time for the trip around the world will be 35 days, 21 hours, 35 minutes.

DIPLOMATS BUSY THIS HOT WEATHER TRYING TO SETTLE DESTINY OF MEXICO AND CENTRAL AMERICA REPUBLICS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(Special)—The Mexican situation gets hotter every day. Serious consideration is being given in Washington to the suggestion that recent developments in the territory, including the shooting of Immigration Inspector Dixon and the threats to Charles Bissel and Bernard McDonald, mining managers, held at Chihuahua, may be part of a deliberate plan to force action by the United States.

It is understood that both the president and Secretary Bryan strongly favor mediation.

In the midst of the Mexican conferences, Secretary Bryan found time to give a luncheon party and to introduce to each other the Panamanian minister to this country, Dr. Ensebia Morales and the American governor of the canal zone, Richard Lee Metcalf, who was formerly Bryan's associate in editing the Commoner. Benjamin L. Jefferson, who has just been appointed minister to Nicaragua, had many conferences with Secretary Bryan preparatory to leaving for his post. Jefferson comes from Denver, is a Bryan democrat and has long been prominent in the politics of his state. Ambassador Wilson declares that he is prepared to justify everything that he has done.

LOCAL THEATRE IS MODEL OF SAFETY

Wohlhuter House Now Has 400 Per Cent More Exit Space Than Required by State Law

"One of the safest theaters in the state," is the opinion of many theatrical men who have inspected the La Crosse Theater in its present nearly complete state of remodeling. Manager H. G. Wohlhuter is displaying the newly decorated interior with considerable pride. Among those whom he showed the house was an inspector of the rate commission from Madison. And the inspector went away highly pleased to make his report. Of course he cannot give advance information as to what he would report to the commission, but he seemed highly pleased with all the arrangements in the house.

The La Crosse Theater is especially lavish in exits. Four hundred per cent more space and width in exits is provided than the regulations of the state commission require, according to a computation by the inspector who visited the local theater.

The law requires eighteen inches of width in exits for every hundred of seating capacity. Mr. Wohlhuter's house goes the law one better by providing a foot of width in exits for every 12 people the house can hold.

In addition, the doors have all been changed so that they swing out, and locks which are operated from the inside by a single push fasten them.

In case of hurry to get out of the house, the first of the crowd would have but to touch the bars, and the doors would fly open. Formerly the exits were set up at the top of a step from the floor of the house. Now they are level with the floor.

In the matter of safety there are few theaters in the larger cities that are so well provided as the local theater. There are ample exits, and there is plenty of space on all sides of the building. To the north and rear of the house are twenty foot alleys. On the south is eighteen feet of private ground, and in front is Fifth street. The building is one of the most stable in the city. It was erected many years ago, and has not settled a fraction of an inch. The columns that support the balcony and gallery extend from the top floor to the basement, where they are firmly planted in brick piers resting upon heavy flagstones. The floors are trussed beyond all possibility of collapse.

The house has been newly decorated in the last thirty days. The walls have been covered with a masonry paneling, trimmed with gold leaf and white, and the ceiling is now a delicate pink.

In addition to the other improvements, Mr. Wohlhuter has installed a new ventilating system. The air for the house is taken from the roof into the basement by means of a long duct with a suction fan, and heated over a series of pipes below the first floor. Then it is forced up into the auditorium by fans through small registers beneath each seat. Perfect mechanical ventilation is thus assured.

The new house will open August 11 for its 1913-14 season, with Maud Adams in "Peter Pan" as the first attraction. A number of first class shows will follow immediately.

IN THE WORLD OF WOMEN

A unique form of propaganda has been adopted by the New York Men's league for Equal Suffrage. The members promise to give up their seats in crowded trains and cars to women, and in response to "thanks" will explain that they are women suffragists.

Mrs. Laura V. G. Mackie and Mrs. Samuel Holman, of Attleboro, Mass., have been registered as "school voters" for 31 years. They were the first women to register in Attleboro under the law giving the limited voting privilege to women and have voted every year since.

Miss Vera Virginia Bush, a graduate of Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., and a post-graduate of the University of Pennsylvania has been appointed "police woman" at Portsmouth, N. H., through the efforts of the Civic Association.

More than 230 women journalists or newspaper writers attended the International Suffrage Alliance convention in Budapest in June. It is said that no such gathering of newspaper women has ever before been recorded.

SOMETHING POSITIVE

Business education is learning how the world transacts its business. It has always been in demand and always will be. We tell you positively that if you graduate from one of our courses that you can almost immediately secure a position and promotion. The past three years we have been unable to fill the positions offered us. These positions pay from $45 to $75 per month to begin with. Those who tell you differently are either ignorant or misinformed, or both, or untruthful. Sooner or later you will probably have to earn a living. What can you do, and what will you be able to do two, three or four years from now that anyone will pay anything more than day labor wages for? Business education as demonstrated in the W. B. U. prepares you for something definite; it has secured thousands of positions; hundreds of our students earn from $1,200 to $8,000 per year and we prove it. Only 7 1/2 per cent of the men of the United States earn from $1,800 to $3,000, so this is rather a good showing for W. B. U. graduates. Think for yourself. How much time have you? How much money to spend? Who is going to help you? We make no statements we cannot prove. It is all in our catalogue. Send for it today.

ANOTHER STARTLING SHOE SALE

In accordance with our previous announcements the Frye Shoe Co.'s store has been closed for remodeling.

It was our intention to ship the remaining stock to Chicago, but we have now decided to give the people of La Crosse the benefit of the enormous sacrifice we would be obliged to make.

Careful shoe buyers were well satisfied with the methods under which the Re-Organization Sale was held, and we are going to further merit the confidence of our trade by consolidating the Frye stock with the already large stock of Adams, the Shoeman, and marking everything at startling prices.

This is not altogether a sale of left-overs. There are included a full line of advance fall styles which Adams, the Shoeman, has just received and these, together with the regular summer stock will be included with the remaining stock of the Frye Shoe Company, making a most complete line of styles and sizes, all marked ridiculously low.

Through the courtesy of Mr. J. E. Willing, we have obtained half of the store in order to properly handle this $20,000 stock of Shoes and Oxfords. The sale will start Saturday morning. A complete list of prices will appear in this paper Friday.

FIGHTS SNOBBERY IN THE SERVICE

Senator Kern Declares Enlisted Men Are Refused Promotion to Officers' Posts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Transferring his fight against snobbery in the navy from the senate floor to the department itself, Senator Kern of Pennsylvania, majority leader of the upper house, was today working up facts in various cases in which enlisted men have been denied promotion to the rank of officers because of the fact they have not had training at Annapolis.

He received word today that certain young men have been rejected after several examinations by reason of the fact that the examining officers refused to pass them on the ten points credited to "adaptability." The inference drawn by Kern is that "adaptability" means sympathy with the social exclusiveness which he finds among many of the officers. Kern says a man from the enlisted service is not welcome at the officers' mess, hence he is not going to be contented and therefore is not adaptable.

BLAMES PROTECTION FOR WAR OF CLASS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Accusing the high tariff system of having separated the American people into hostile classes—those who have not, against those who have, Senator Saulsbury of Delaware today defended the democratic tariff measure in the senate on the ground that it would save the country from protection and socialism. He described protection and socialism as "twin evil and ill-omened birds, hatched in the nest of business and political vultures, preying upon our political life."

CITY FATHERS WANT VIEWS ON VIADUCT

If you have an idea for the solution of the Rose street viaduct controversy, a plan that you think would solve all the difficulties and at the same time be fair to the railroad company, the street car company, the city and all concerned, be at the big council chamber in the city hall Wednesday night.

That is the date of the special meeting of the council, called by Mayor Ori J. Sorensen, when the council, sitting as a committee of the whole, will listen to your views.

At this meeting the plan perfected by City Engineer George P. Bradish will be explained in detail. It is expected that the representatives of the railroad will be there and the city officials want citizens—the people who are affected most—to air their opinions.

MODEL SHOW FOR CHICAGO POLICEMEN

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Chicago policemen will "go to school" next week to learn what is proper and what is not in bathing beach costumes for men and women. Chief McWeeny announced the school of instruction today, after a judge for second time had dismissed a bather charged with being insufficiently clad.

Live models—borrowed from the Art institute—will parade before the coppers in slit bathing suits, skirlless bathing suits and one-piece bathing suits. A sergeant will point out to the truth-seeking coppers which of the fair models is in need of more clothes. There will be male models, too.

Classes on propriety of bathing suits will not be thrown open to the general public, the chief announced today, forestalling any rush to the police drill halls.

BISHOP ANDERSON IN WELCOMING SPEECH CALLS KNIGHTS TO FOLLOW TEACHING OF POPE AND PRESIDENT

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Calling upon all Knights of Columbus to follow the teachings of Pope Pius X and President Wilson to save society from disruption and pointing out the great dangers that are imminent in the world, Bishop Anderson, in the name of the Boston Archdiocese and Cardinal O'Connell, today extended a cordial welcome to 221 delegates from all parts of North America to the thirty-first national convention of the Catholic organization assembled in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross.

The bishop praised President Wilson for "taking a firm stand against the forces of disorganization," in this country and called upon the Knights to ally themselves "with the forces of law and order working earnestly and effectively for the betterment of conditions through evolution, not revolution."

FIND MURDER MYSTERY

POLICE BAFFLED BY DISCOVERY OF BODY OF 60 YEAR OLD WOMAN IN MANHOLE

REVERE, Mass., Aug. 5.—What the police declare is undoubtedly a murder mystery was uncovered today by the finding of the braided body of an unidentified woman about 60 years of age, in an unfinished manhole on Broadway, near the Lynn marshes. The police believe the woman was slain and her body crammed into the hole.

It was first believed that the woman might have met with an accident in falling into the hole, but several hair combs were found on the ground several feet away. An apron spotted with blood and a silver plated table knife were also found near by. The woman's right hand was clenched, she was badly cut over the left eye, and bruised about the body.

The body was found, face up, in fifteen inches of water. The mouth and nose were above the water, but a physician who was summoned said the woman had apparently been knocked unconscious and drowned.

FREE YOUTH FOR FATHER'S FUNERAL

DENVER, Col., Aug. 5.—"My boy is in the state penitentiary. Will you let him come to his father's death?"

In these words Mrs. J. K. Kreiger, wife of the man who had been sheriff of Las Animas county for thirty years, appealed to Governor Ammons in a telegram hoping that the chasm between father and son, which had wrecked her life, might be bridged in the hour of the old man's death. The father died before the request could be carried out, but the governor today ordered the boy taken to the funeral.

Kreiger had been sheriff for twenty-six years. He was known for his ability to catch desperadoes. But there was a band of highway robbers that had outwitted him. Finally one night he took them unawares and caught the leader. It was his own son. The old man was deaf to the boy's appeals. When he was convicted his father handcuffed him and took him to the penitentiary.

RANKS NEWSPAPER WITH THE CHURCH

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5.—"The newspaper and the church are two great instruments affecting public morals," said Col. John W. Hicks, Oshkosh, in his address at the first session of the sixth annual convention of the Wisconsin Press association in the Merchants' and Manufacturers' rooms Monday afternoon.

"Thousands of persons, teachers, fathers and mothers are guided by the columns of the newspaper. The newspaper man has a heavy responsibility resting on his shoulders, a greater responsibility than that carried by any other professional man."

FORAKER TELLS OF MULHALL AFFAIR

Former Senator in Contemptuous Tone Denies Lobbyist Allegations

HE MAKES N. A. M. AIDE SQUIRM

Is First Man to Deny Testimony and Keep His Temper During Time on the Stand

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Drifting casually into a discussion of old time political situations, talking in a drawing, half amused tone, former Senator Joseph B. Foraker, today related the history of his acquaintance with Martin M. Mulhall, former lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers, denying everyone of Mulhall's statements which connected him with the fortunes of the N. A. M.

Foraker, the first witness who has been able to deny Mulhall's testimony and at the same time keep his temper, referred to Mulhall as "an exceedingly social chap, who wrote ardent letters and really thought himself greater than anybody else did." Instead of calling Mulhall names, he made the former squirm by referring to him in contemptuous tones. Many of Mulhall's allusions he dismissed with the comment that the lobbyist "must have been grievously mistaken," or "was totally in error." He said, half apologetically, that he always had thought Mulhall honest. He denied that Mulhall had ever attended a secret conference of republican senators at his home in January of 1909; that Mulhall had ever come to Cincinnati to canvass leading politicians as to their attitude toward his presidential candidacy; that he (Foraker) had ever favored any N. A. M. legislation, or had ever helped the N. A. M. in any way.

Investigation of the "insidious lobby" in congress was begun today by the house probing committee. The stage was set for the appearance, probably tomorrow, of Col. M. M. Mulhall, "star" lobbyist. Foundation was laid today for cross-examination of Mulhall. His wholesale corruption charges in a New York newspaper on June 29 were put in evidence by Louis Seibold, a newspaper correspondent.

SOUTHPAW WONDER OF THE SENATORS

Joe Boehling, the new southpaw wonder of the Senators of Washington, had won eleven straight games up to Thursday, July 24, thereby breaking the pitching records of the two big leagues for this season, and incidentally showing that Clark Griffith, the manager of the team, came near making one of the mistakes of his career. Griffith announced some weeks ago that there were no more good southpaws, and all the time he had one of the best in his possession.

SUTTON TO FACE PEGGER SLUGGERS

Good-sized Crowd at Ball Park Today for Advance Squint at the La Crosse Colts

A goodly number of fans left their work today and went to League park to get an advance squint at the newly acquired La Crosse Colts before the formal opening of the Northern league season in La Crosse. The game today was with Winnipeg, fourth in the race.

A gloomy day kept off many fans who were not anxious to risk a drenching, but there was a respectable turn out.

Corbett and Sutton were expected to be the opposing twirlers. Corbett has been going in good shape for the Peggers, but Sutton was also said to be in condition. A pitchers' battle was expected to open the lid. Banchant for the Canadians and Hruska for the locals were to do the receiving, according to the dope of the managers this afternoon.

The formal opening of the season will take place tomorrow, and directors of the local association are putting up prayers to the well known and justly infamous Jupiter Pluvius to keep both hands tightly gripped about the rain supply.

ANGEL OF MINES TO AID STRIKERS

CALUMET, Mich., Aug. 5.—Greeted by 2,000 cheering strikers, Mother Jones aged "angel of the mines," came to Calumet today to give aid to the copper miners who are striking for better wages.

A great demonstration planned by the strikers upon the arrival of the famous labor leader, suffered an eleventh hour setback when rain prevented any outdoor activities. Nevertheless Mother Jones insisting on heading a parade of strikers and their wives from the depot to union headquarters.

LA CROSSE MOVIES ARE FIRST RATE

"First class" is the report on the La Crosse moving picture films, sent by "the Huntleys," the artists who are making the reels.

The test was made by developing a small section from each of the thirteen magazines containing each 200 feet of the 2,600 feet of film. In every case the test showed excellent results.

The company advises Mr. Taggart that the pictures will be ready to show in about two weeks.

BLAMES AMERICAN WOMAN

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The American colony was tangled in a maze of speculation today, trying to guess the identity of the American woman blamed by Filson Young in the Saturday Review for the introduction of the Tango in London society. Explaining that the Tango is so popular because "Tango" in Latin means "I touch," the writer says: "Where the shepherd leads, the sheep will follow and the American lady in London who is the chief instigator of these revels is a shepherdess of no mean ability."

EVELYN THAW HIT

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was convinced today that New York had accepted her in her role as an "artistic dancer" and not as the central figure in a sensational murder, seeking to capitalize the notoriety which came to her through the killing of Stanford White by Harry K. Thaw. A strangely mixed audience of many Broadway stars and regular feminine matinee patrons was on hand for the first appearance of "Miss Nesbit" on the stage here since the murder, six years ago. At the conclusion of her dancing act with Jack Clifford she was recalled again and again.

ALLIES FAR APART ON PEACE TERMS

Greece and Servia Demand More Than Bulgaria Will Concede Them

POWERS WILL TAKE A HAND

Will Force Belligerents to Reach Agreement by Thursday when Armistice Expires

BUCHAREST, Aug. 5.—The Balkan peace delegates today held general conferences before the formal resumption of the peace conference, in an effort to get together. The announcement of M. Majoresco, the Roumanian premier, who is the presiding officer of the conference, that no further extension of the armistice would be asked, indicated that the powers will exert considerable pressure on the belligerents to induce them to reach an agreement by Thursday night, when the truce will expire. The armistice yesterday was extended for three days.

At present the states are far apart. Greece and Servia have demanded immense territorial concessions and a cash indemnity from Bulgaria, and that state has refused to accept any of the terms offered by the allies. They so far, have refused to modify their demands.

ONCE NOTED BEAUTY WORRIES OFF FLESH

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Worry over reports in sensational newspapers has caused Mrs. Walter C. Cunningham of Denver, formerly the famous "Calendar Beauty," to lose nearly as much flesh as she removed via the famous "anti-fat" cure, whose advertisement resulted in the famous "anti-fat" trial of the Calendar Girl and her husband in Denver on charges of using the mails to defraud.

Mrs. Cunningham, in Chicago at the bedside of Mrs. James R. Wards, Jr., denounced as "just a big lie" the story printed in Chicago papers today that she is contemplating a suit for divorce against her husband.

"Some of these yellow papers have abused me to the point of persecution," said the once noted beauty. "They monkey with the truth so much that they look foolish. I am not thinking of divorce. Just as soon as Mrs. Wards gets better I am going right back to Denver."

DEAN OF COLLEGE SUFFOCATES IN FIRE

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 5.—Charles A. Van Vleck, dean of the law college of Drake university here, was suffocated to death in the basement of his burning home at two o'clock this afternoon.

Neighbors turned in an alarm and firemen extinguished the fire and later discovered the body of Professor Van Vleck in the basement. He was dressed in working clothes and the authorities think he tried to extinguish the fire himself instead of giving the alarm and was suffocated. Van Vleck was 49 years of age and a well known educator.

SEE PERRY RELICS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 5.—The Perry Relics—the famous battle flag bearing the last words of Laurence ("Don't give up the ship") his sword and pistols and a bit of the Lake Erie hero's uniform, claimed the attention of thousands of people in the temporary museum opened here in connection with the Perry celebration. Twenty thousand people attended the opening ceremonies in the auditorium yesterday and heard Mayor Bading and Gov. McGovern speak.

The chief speaker last night was W. Bourke Cochran. He dwelt on the widespread effect which Perry's victory had on the subsequent growth of the nation, and was wildly cheered by the crowd that packed the auditorium.

OUR DROWN WHEN CAR GOES IN RIVER

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5.—Four lives were lost in the Red river on Sunday when an automobile with the driver rolled off a car ferryboat, sailing to O. Roy, proprietor of a Winnipeg hotel who returned from it, last night. Mr. and Mrs. Stead of Drayton, a Mrs. Anderson and her 12 year old son were those drowned. Stewart saw his wife dragged into the current and leaped after her as the auto top disappeared beneath the surface. He did not reappear. The chauffeur also went down with the car, but managed to extricate himself and swam ashore.

WOULD ORGANIZE GOPHER MOOSERS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 5.—State-wide organization of a compact battle front for coming campaigns was the object of a meeting of the progressive party in Minneapolis yesterday.

D. R. Hinshaw of New York, who has recently come to Minnesota as state organizer, presided at the luncheon. Mr. Hinshaw, in a talk of an hour, explained his desire to organize progressive clubs in ten of the largest cities of the state. When this has been accomplished he plans, he says, to call a state-wide meeting for the formation of state organization.

PLAN TO RE-INTER BODY OF BISHOP

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Aug. 5.—Bishop Weller on Monday announced the tentative plans for the removal of the body of Bishop Grafton from Rienzi cemetery to the costly sarcophagus in St. Paul's cathedral on Sept. 2.

The body will be brought from the cemetery in its hermetically sealed casket by an escort of eight clergy, and upon reaching the cathedral the choir and the clergy of the diocese will be in waiting at the main entrance. The procession up the main aisle to the chancel steps and thence east into St. Ambrose's chapel will be made while the clergy and choir sing the litany, the singing being continued as the casket is placed in the sarcophagus.

STRIKE FORCES UP PRICE OF SALMON

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 5.—Four thousand salmon fishermen have gone on strike on the Fraser river. The canneries announced that the price of fish would be materially increased. Whites, Japanese and Indians have joined in the strike and have called out the Indian women who work in the canneries.

The only toasted corn flakes that can be kept—provided the “kiddies” will let you

You know—and I know—and we all know that toasted corn flakes, when fresh, are delicious; as good for you as they are appetizing and palatable.

But toasted corn flakes are neither appetizing or palatable when they are stale. The box of toasted corn flakes that is “cut open” and stands on the pantry shelf absorbing dryness or moisture in a changeable climate, quickly becomes unpalatable and consequently wasteful.

You can open the round package of “Silver Flake” Toasted corn flakes then replace the air-tight lid and use the remainder at intervals to suit your family tastes—always sure that the last serving will be as good as the first.

That's an Advantage!

—indeed so, and one that you'll not find in any other toasted corn flake package on the market. We believe our round, air-tight package to be the final solution of the problem of conveying delicious toasted corn flakes from a cleanly factory to every prudent housewife's table.

Not only cheap, but better for growers and grown-ups. Ask Your Grocer for the Round, Air-Tight Package—big as it is good.

PLAN TO COMBAT ANTI-PASS MOVE

North Side Railroad Men Not in Harmony with Scheme of Easterner

Railroad employees here are planning to fight a movement that is on foot to abolish all railroad passes. E. L. McColvin, business manager of the Norfolk, Va., Chamber of Commerce is urging all railroads throughout the country to discontinue the giving of passes to employees.

In a statement issued by McColvin, he says: "The issuance of passes by the railroads to employees was intended to create a friendly feeling and to encourage co-operation among all concerned. If the railroads are foolish enough to believe that at the great value of transportation they donate to organized labor in their employ is appreciated, they are laboring under a delusion, which the latest wage settlement must have dispelled."

Employees of railroads here and even officials do not agree with this view. They say that organized labor would make it harder for the railroads should this rule be put in force.

WANT PROTECTORATE

ADMINISTRATION WILL HOLD OVER PROPOSED NICARAGUA PLAN UNTIL REGULAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The administration has not abandoned the proposed Nicaraguan protectorate. This was made plain in an official statement issued by Secretary of State Bryan today.

"The president," he said, "has not changed his views as to the main features of the Nicaraguan treaty, an outline of which has been before the foreign relations committee of the senate for consideration. Owing to the fact that the senate's time is occupied with the tariff and currency bills, further consideration of the treaty with Nicaragua, together with a number of other important matters will be deferred until the regular session."

Mary Must Not Marry Mark.

A curious idea among the Burmese is that people born on the same day of the week must not marry and that if they defy the fates their union will be marked by much ill luck. To prevent these disastrous marriages every girl carries a record of her birthday in her name, each day of the week having a letter belonging to it, and all children are called by a name that begins with that letter. It is rather hard if the Marys and Marks of Burma fall in love with each other, as in this country. Unlike other oriental lands, the young people are allowed to marry as taste dictates, subject only to the birthday restrictions.

Poetry and Horse Dealing.

"See here, that horse you sold me is no good."

"I know he is not perfect, and I told you so. Don't you remember my remarking that there he was with all his imperfections on his head?"

"Yes, I know you said that; but, hang it, his worst faults are in his legs, and you didn't say a word about those."—Boston Transcript.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The stock market opened active and strong.

11 a. m.—The market relapsed into comparative dullness toward the end of the first hour, but the undertone was good, although prices eased off somewhat from the best.

All United States Steel securities were strong sinking fund 5s selling up to par against as low as 99% yesterday.

Conservative traders regarded the tone of the market as good, considering it best to have the advance made in an orderly manner, instead of at such speed as would lead to a fall.

Noon—The stock market continued strong.

The stock market closed firm.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Cloudy conditions over portions of Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska, and predictions of at least scattered showers, halted the advance in the corn pit today.

The market opened with prices 1-2 to 5-8c higher, the weather map showing no rain over the corn belt in the twenty-four hours, but there was enough selling on the forecast of rain to cause a loss of about one cent.

General rains tonight or tomorrow, it is apparent, will break the lock movement in corn and cause a big drop in prices. On the contrary, if the clouds pass away and the temperature rises before morning prices are expected to take a sharp upward course tomorrow.

Wheat started firm today with corn and the bullish cables but the break in the corn pit and heavy local receipts depressed options 7-8 to 1 1-4c and at noon they were under last night's close by a large margin.

Oats moved about the same as the other grains, opening firm and higher and then dropping sharply.

Provisions opened weak, but advanced under good buying.

Corn closed at about noon prices, but September wheat made further decline of 1/4c in the afternoon. Oats had a rally of 1/4c to 3/4c just before the close.

Provisions closed about noon prices.

"Q" Kids Are in the Lead

In one of the fastest games between these two teams the "Q" Kids defeated the Champs by a score of 5 to 4. By winning this game the Kids are now leading the Midgits league. The team work on both sides was such that interest did not lag throughout the game.

Stars Again Defeat Tigers
The Stars added another victory by defeating the Tigers, 22 to 15. The game was much closer than any before between these two teams, more so even than the score would seem to indicate. The Tigers have been strengthened a great deal by the past week and should make a good showing in the future.

Nelsons Still Have Clean Record
The fast Nelson aggregation took two games, one Thursday night from the Billikens, 6 to 0, and one Friday night from the Rangers, 9 to 3. This makes eight games played and eight won for the Nelsons.

Colts Rise to Second Place
By winning three straight games the past week the Colts are put in second place in the percentage column. The games played were very close, the Colts winning only by a few scores over their opponents. The Rubber Mills put up a very hard fight, but could not hit in the pinches, losing by a score of 9 to 7. The Billikens also made the Colts work in a very fast game, losing only by three runs, score being 8 to 3. The team work of the Billikens has improved greatly the last two games and they deserve a victory soon.

Gold Bugs 8; Rubber Mills 7
The Gold Bugs defeated the Rubber Mills by one run in a very fast game. The game at no time was won by either team until the last man was out.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 5.—Mrs. Amy Chevelier, 45 years old, and her daughter, Ella, 12, were murdered some time early today. Their bodies, still warm, were lying side by side on a bed in the home when they were found. Nearby was a flat iron which is thought to have been used in committing the double murder.

A series of robberies and hold-ups occurred in the neighborhood last night and it is believed that the two men who attempted the hold up may have had a hand in the killing. The officers are also investigating the threats against Mrs. Chevelier by a former friend. Bloodhounds are on their way here from Springfield, Ill.

TOP HAT ESSENTIAL

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 5.—Prof. Paul S. Reinsch of the University of Wisconsin, appointed ambassador to China, and a new and shining "top" hat will be inseparable companions in China, according to Kim Tong Ho, a Chinese student who graduated from Wisconsin in 1912 and is now in Honolulu. Mr. Ho believes that a tall, impressive "stovepipe" is as essential to an ambassador in China as a crown is to a king or a gun to a soldier. He wrote to Louis P. Lochner, editor of the Wisconsin Alumni magazine, asking for two pictures of Prof. Reinsch: One in civilian clothes with head uncovered, and the other with the insignia of his post, the "top" hat. He wants the pictures for the English papers in Honolulu.
